

Teijin establishes nutraceutical product firm for productive ageing

20 May 2019 | News

Teijin Limited has announced its establishment of NOMON, Co., Ltd. to sell nutraceutical food and beverages that are scientifically proven to help people maintain their health.

NOMON begins sales of its first nutraceutical product immediately and will expand its product lineup going forward.

Teijin Limited has announced its establishment of NOMON, Co., Ltd. to sell nutraceutical food and beverages that are scientifically proven to help people maintain their health.

NOMON begins sales of its first nutraceutical product immediately and will expand its product lineup going forward.

Under its brand slogan, "Life Is Long," NOMON will support productive aging to help people maximize their potential to enjoy more fulfilling lives. As part of the Teijin Group's healthcare business, which strives to support people from birth to their final days, NOMON will offer nutraceutical products aimed at enhancing the quality of life worldwide.

NOMON will develop nutraceuticals by combining the Teijin Group's research and development capabilities with clinical evaluation technologies from the group's pharmaceutical and home-healthcare businesses. In addition, it will leverage synergies with Teijin's recent expansions in the healthcare business, including functional food ingredients.

Teijin, which is transforming its business portfolio from a long-term perspective, is creating new businesses in its healthcare business to deliver comprehensive patient services, including services that are not currently reimbursed under the Japanese health insurance system.