European food brand FoodDrinkEurope has appointed Hubert Weber as the new president of the organisation.

Weber has been a member of FoodDrinkEurope board since September 2013 and has already contributed actively to the work of the association for health and nutrition issues.

Weber said, "It is a great honour to represent the European food and drink sector as President of FoodDrinkEurope at this dynamic and critically important time for our region. As a leading economic contributor and employer in Europe, I look forward on behalf of my colleagues to engaging with our key partners and to representing the best interests of our industry, consumers and employees. It is a pleasure to have the opportunity to succeed Gilles Morel and to build on the excellent work that he and the Secretariat have done in recent years."

"I hope my successor enjoys this role as much as I have. It is both very pleasurable and challenging, and I know I am leaving the organisation in good hands", he added.
