

Japanese health foods manufacturer releases more products

27 August 2020 | News | By BioSpectrum Bureau

New High-Quality Dietary Supplements Available at a Lower Price

Umeken, the leading health foods manufacturer based in Cerritos, California, and Osaka, Japan, continues its dedication to high-quality supplements and a natural health care approach by releasing three new products this summer: a smaller size of the best-seller Nattokinase plus Fucoidan, an upgraded formula of the popular Corbicula Ball EX, and the brand new Lipopo-C. These more economical and upgraded options have been made available to allow consumers to continue to care for their health during these uncertain and challenging times.

Nattokinase plus Fucoidan - Nattokinase is an enzyme only found in natto, a traditional Japanese food consisting of fermented soybean. The new one-month supply of Nattokinase plus Fucoidan sells for $88, allowing consumers the convenience of trying the product before settling for the larger supply and making it an ideal gift for friends and family concerned about their heart health.* Its small tablet form makes it easier to take than other supplements.

Corbicula Ball EX - Corbicula Ball EX is an upgraded formula of the Corbicula Extract that Umeken customers have come to appreciate for its efficacy in supporting liver function.* The new product contains eight active ingredients: corbicula extract, silymarin (from milk thistle), L-ornithine, turmeric, broccoli seed extract, oyster extract, and propolis extract. Made into small-size pill form using Umeken's patented manufacturing method, Corbicula Ball EX is easy and convenient to take. Umeken offers $50 off this month as part of its new product launch special.

Lipopo-C - The latest addition to the Umeken product line, Lipopo-C, is a powerhouse for the immune system.* It combines vitamin C with LPS. Made as a delicious grape-flavored powder, Lipopo-C can be conveniently taken without water and is designed for the whole family to enjoy, including children. Regularly $68, a one-month supply of Lipopo-C (30 packets) is on sale this month for just $48.