Scoular, one of the largest and most diverse fishmeal and fish oil merchandisers in the world, recently opened a new fishmeal facility in Myanmar.

The facility will provide a hub for high-quality, consistent product and just-in-time shipment to Asian feed markets. The opening follows Scoular's launch in September of Encompass™, the new brand for Scoular's growing global fishmeal business.

"The facility further expands Scoular's supply of fishmeal and our ability to produce and deliver high-quality ingredients to our customers around the region."

Scoular has been involved in the fishmeal market for more than 20 years and works closely with customers to provide fishmeal and fish oil solutions year-round, anywhere in the world.
