Vietcoco introduced a new product Coconut milk beverage UHT 180ml. In addition to the reason that this is a plant-based milk product from coconut in paper boxes, Vietcoco coconut milk beverage stands out because it helps improve health and resistance.

Vietcoco coconut milk beverage 180ml is made from selected fresh coconuts and produced under a completely closed sterilisation process that retains all the nutrients inherent in coconut, providing an extremely pure source of plant nutrients, totally natural. The product does not use refined sugar and has a sweet taste from natural coconut water with a low glycemic index. Especially good for dieters and those allergic to animal milk. Coconut milk beverage contains an amount of saturated fat called medium-chain triglycerides (MCTs) that help speed up metabolism and strengthen the body's resistance for a naturally healthy body. Two boxes of coconut milk beverage per day will provide necessary nutrients such as Ca, K, Mg, P to help balance nutrition for effective long-term activities.

Compared to the larger capacity Coconut Milk Beverage launched previously, this product comes in a compact box with a premium capacity of 180ml, convenient and more suitable for children. To bring better value to consumers and expand to more customers, the product is sold at 11,000 VND/180ml box.
