

Barramundi Group appoints Eric Tsang as independent director

13 August 2024 | News

The Board believes that Eric's appointment will greatly contribute to the ongoing restructuring and future growth of the company

The Board believes that Eric's appointment will greatly contribute to the ongoing restructuring and future growth of the company

Barramundi Group announced the appointment of Eric Tsang as an independent director, effective immediately.

Eric Tsang brings over two decades of extensive experience in institutional banking, investment management and entrepreneurship across the Asia Pacific region. Currently serving as Chief of Staff at a single-family office in Hong Kong, Eric also oversees private equity, venture capital, and private markets investments. His strategic vision and leadership in cross-border business development and managing institutional relationships will be invaluable to Barramundi Group Ltd.

With a career marked by significant achievements, including managing relationships with sovereign institutions, asset managers, and banks, Eric has a proven track record of producing results and demonstrating leadership in financial operations and strategic advisory. His expertise spans the direct origination of capital markets businesses, structured products, asset management, and real estate financing.

The Board believes that Eric's appointment will greatly contribute to the ongoing restructuring and future growth of the Company.