

Al Islami launches processed food product line in Qatar

12 November 2024 | News

This launch underscores Al Islami's dedication to catering to the evolving tastes and demands of consumers in the region

This launch underscores Al Islami's dedication to catering to the evolving tastes and demands of consumers in the region

Al Islami Foods, a leading provider of halal poultry and meat products based in the UAE, has launched an extensive range of processed foods in Qatar. This new offering aims to meet the needs of modern households and busy individuals, providing greater convenience in halal cooking.

Renowned for its commitment to hand-slaughtered, never-stunned halal products, Al Islami seeks to deliver quality and convenience to Qatari consumers. The selection includes items such as burgers, nuggets, franks, kebabs, and minced meat.

This launch underscores Al Islami's dedication to catering to the evolving tastes and demands of consumers in the region. All products in the new line are sourced from farms that adhere to rigorous halal standards, ensuring convenience without compromising on quality or nutrition.

"At Al Islami Foods, we are committed to redefining convenience and the global halal food concept while maintaining the highest standards of halal integrity," said Zubair Ahmad, Marketing Director of Al Islami Foods. "Our new processed food range in Qatar combines quality ingredients with a commitment to authenticity, offering a delicious experience while respecting halal principles. For us, food is not just a meal – it's a blessing."