MÃ©rieux NutriSciences, a global leader in food safety, quality, and sustainability, has announced the completion of its acquisition of Bureau Veritas' food testing activities in Japan, Morocco, Southeast Asia, and South Africa.

Following the recent finalisation of the deal in Canada and the US, this latest wave of closings marks a significant milestone in the previously announced global transaction, strengthening MÃ©rieux NutriSciences' position as a worldwide leader in food testing, inspection, and certification (TIC).

Through this phase of the acquisition, MÃ©rieux NutriSciences establishes a strong presence in the Japanese, Moroccan and Southeast Asian markets, and enhances its capabilities inÂ South Africa, including adding pharmaceutical testing solutions.

MÃ©rieux NutriSciences welcomes more than 500 employees and integrates 8 laboratories into its global network.

In Southeast Asia, MÃ©rieux NutriSciences is proud to operate as part of a joint venture with AsureQuality, New Zealand's leading food assurance services provider. This joint venture, currently trading as BVAQ, combines the strengths of both organisations in their shared commitment to food safety, quality, and sustainability. Together, they will unlock new opportunities for innovation and growth in the food industry. Further details about the joint venture will be shared in the coming months.
