

Morales Beverage Group appoints Matthew Gallery as Chief Sales Officer

18 July 2025 | News

Matthew Gallery brings a wealth of experience in strategic sales management and business development

Matthew Gallery brings a wealth of experience in strategic sales management and business development

Morales Beverage Group, a leading name in premium alcohol beverage distribution, announced the appointment of Matthew Gallery as its new Chief Sales Officer. With an extensive background in sales leadership and a proven track record in the alcohol beverage industry, Matthew Gallery will drive the company's sales strategy, enhance market presence, and lead Morales Beverage Group's continued growth through its multi-state distribution operations and national import company.

Matthew Gallery brings a wealth of experience in strategic sales management and business development, having held key leadership roles in the alcohol beverage and hospitality sectors. His expertise in building high-performing teams and fostering strong client relationships will be instrumental as Morales Beverage Group expands its portfolio of premium spirits, fine wines, and beer across domestic and international markets.

"We are delighted to welcome Matthew Gallery to Morales Beverage Group as our new Chief Sales Officer," said Eduardo Morales, CEO at Morales Beverage Group. "Matt's strategic vision, industry expertise, and leadership make him the perfect fit to drive our sales initiatives and deliver exceptional value to our customers and partners."

In his role as CSO, Matthew Gallery will oversee the development and execution of a comprehensive sales strategy, lead national and regional sales teams, and cultivate key partnerships within the alcohol beverage industry.