NFFOODS Spectrum
perspectives on food technologies & business
ASIA

TopGum Advances Longevity with Gummies for Cognition and Vision

22 July 2026 | News

TopGumâ??s advanced collection of delicious gummies supports the brain-eye axis with high-precision dosing and no added sugar

Gummy supplements specialist TopGum Industries, Ltd., unveils a new collection of gummies addressing two leading themes in the longevity category. The line includes five functional gummy compositions designed to support cognition and eye health.

Leading this series is the Focus Gummy, holistically formulated to support concentration and long-term cognitive resilience. Each 3g cherry-flavored gummy combines natural nootropics and adaptogens. It includes 100mg lion's mushroom extract, hailed for its benefits on immunity and neuroprotective properties; 75mg Brahmi, prized in Ayurvedic medicine as a brain tonic; gotu kola extract, used to reduce anxiety and improve cognition; and vitamin B12 and folic acid.

The blend of botanicals in the red, bear-shaped chew naturally harnesses powerful antioxidants shown to help protect brain cells and provide proactive cognitive support.

The Focus Gummy is sweetened with TopGum's proprietary Gummiceuticals plant-based prebiotic fiber matrix, which enables formulation without added sugar while preserving the sweet, fruity flavor consumers expect.

Another highlight of this new nutraceutical gummy line is a mango gummy targeting eye care. Each flavorful, dome-shaped gummy contains 10mg trans-lutein and 2mg zeaxanthin isomers sourced from marigold flowers. This advanced, branded carotenoid formula is clinically backed to help shield eyes from age-related decline and modern blue light exposure. Its powerful antioxidants support macular health, helping to reduce oxidative stress in retinal cells, support long-term visual acuity, and keep vision sharp.

"Longevity is changing the way we think about cognitive and visual wellness, as these are often the first systems that tend to decline with age," informs Eyal Shohat, CEO of TopGum. "Longevity for many is not just about extending lifespan but maintaining wellness and independence. Consumers are actively seeking natural ways to maintain mental fitness and stay active. It's not just about reacting to symptoms; for many, it's to try and prevent them. This new collection has been crafted to deliver on this in a delicious and convenient format."