Muscle and Strength India currently have stores spread across multiple cities in the country and has the widest range with over 1000 fitness supplements and nutrition products from numerous world-class brands. These products are used for athletic performance, fitness, and overall wellness.

"We are excited to expand our presence while building closer connections with our customers, and we will continue to expand our footprint in newer cities. Our new stores are also a testament to our unwavering commitment to providing genuine and economically priced supplements which have increased consumers' trust in our brand. Apart from metros, we are also witnessing huge demand in smaller cities where the availability of the latest, genuine and economically priced supplements is still a challenge. It is also important to make the distinction between genuine and fake supplements and hence one should buy them from genuine dealers of reputed brands," said Praveen Chirania, Founder, Muscle and Strength India.
