

Thai dairy firm Nutridor plans to enter Cambodia

02 August 2018 | News

Thai dairy company Nutridor has formed a new partnership that will see it introduce its Abevia Gold sweetened beverage and evaporate creamers to the Cambodian market.

The dairy producer will hand over the marketing marketing and sales, merchandising, distribution and logistics of the products to DKSH Business Unit Consumer Goods.

Thai dairy company Nutridor has formed a new partnership that will see it introduce its Abevia Gold sweetened beverage and evaporate creamers to the Cambodian market.

The dairy producer will hand over the marketing marketing and sales, merchandising, distribution and logistics of the products to DKSH Business Unit Consumer Goods, a market expansion consultancy.

Abevia creamers are premium products made in Malaysia that provide families with both nutritionally enriched milk products and dairy treats at affordable prices.

Abevia Gold sweetened beverage creamer is good for the digestive system with low lactose and contains multi-vitamins and calcium, has no added starch, contains pure solid milk, and has no artificial sweeteners added. Abevia evaporated creamer has a rich and creamy taste, is made from pure cow's milk and serves as a good source of protein and vitamin A and D3.